

James River Ruffed Grouse Chapter and the
James River Association
Host Wild Game Tasting and Drinks

If you love upland bird hunting with a special love for grouse hunting behind great dogs, interested in helping to protect the James River watershed and love to taste great wild game paired with good wines, join us March 26th for an special evening on the banks of the James River with Bill Street of the James River Association, Sonny Piekarz of Hay Creek Kennels and Jon Nadolski of Nadolski's Butcher Shop

Bill Street will provide an update of how the James River Association is partnering with other organizations, such as the James River Ruffed Grouse Chapter to protect wetlands and create prime woodcock habitat.

Jon Nadolski, an avid hunter and a great chef will be preparing woodcock, grouse, quail, pheasant, geese and duck. Jon will have suggested pairings of wine and the tasting menu posted on his website. If you have a special bottle of wine you have been waiting to enjoy with well prepared game, please bring it or contact Jon directly.

Before dinner, Sonny will give tips and demonstrations for the people who did not sign up for the two day seminar. Training methods at the demonstration will be for all dogs: retrievers, pets and bird dogs.
